Water Management

What do you want Environment Canterbury to do?

I fully support your intentions on P10, I would however make it clear that 'farming' includes all forms of agriculture; the media public and in part your document concentrates on dairy farms - viticulture cropping pig-farming need orchards etc need water management. I would suggest that improving public access to waterways, particularly new irrigation works, be part of the management process. Walking fishing non-powered boating would involve the public and increase their support and appreciation of what you are trying to do. The Alethven RDR is a good example. Public involvement will bridge the remoteness of ECan perceived by the public, however unjustified and improve urban folks understanding of the rural ones.

Natural Habitats Much of what I have said above is pertinent, but overplanning particularly with flax destroys public access, even views, of particularly urban streams - the Heathcote River in Woolston is totally cut off from its walkways by unbroken impenetrable plantings. I support your intentions. Transport I realize the legislation militates against co-ordinated transport planning (division of Policy and Operations for example) but I believe ECan can and should influence the District Councils and Government agencies by submissions and involvement. Your summary concentrates on buses perhaps OK as a very short term intention but long term use of the superbly strategically placed rail corridors offer much more possibilities - particularly for services between the new outlying employment entertainment and education centres. Travel to the ghost CBD is a bonus not a primary objective. Mentioning cycling (however limited it may be) should be made. One major blind spot in Transport Planning is Parking Policies, after all vehicles spend more time stationary than moving. The provision of cheap convenient parking is needed if the CBD is ever to rise from the rubble - it was lack of it which underpinned the growth of the District Centres. Lyttelton should reinstate its recreational access for reasons I stated earlier. Cleaner Air What of motor vehicles particularly diesels which create much of the particulate emissions?

Continue your submission on additional pages if necessary.

Thank you for the opportunity.
