I think the idea of spending money to increase bus ridership is wrong sided. We need to rethink the bus idea so it is attractive . It is presently an old-fashioned programme.

Does the current giant bus attract young people who only plan as long as a text on their mobile phone? Does it attract families who want to go out for the day? No.

Anyone with a car would not choose to ride a bus as an alternative!

Buses need to come every 12 minutes.... no planning for us modern people living in a current century.

Buses should be small and iconic. A modern look on buses for a future looking city. We do not want icons from UK nor from the past.

What do you want Environment
Canterbury to do?

RETHINK your buses not the ridership numbers. IF the bus service were meeting our needs it would be fully utilised..
