Your submission	I understand that only 5% of people use buses when travelling to work and that before the earthquake it was only about 7%. We have an excellent bus service and it seems unnecessary to spend $3m to try and increase patronage. With more that 80% of people using cars it is a nonsense to ignore their practicality for travel in Canterbury. The people have already voted with their feet. Soon with new fuels and car designs the environmental issues will be overcome. Residents use of cars should be improved not discouraged because of "Ideology."
What do you want Environment Canterbury to do?	Stop wasting money trying to get more people on buses. Remove Bus Lanes to improve traffic flow. Improve parking around schools to protect our children from the dangers caused by their parents vehicles. Encourage the use of electric cars by providing Charging

Stations in the central city.
