In my view, bus route 145 is low performing because it does not take people to/from a major work centre, only between two small suburban shopping malls. To make use of bus route 145 when travelling home from my work in Addington to St Martins, I walk a medium distance, catch bus route 60, get off part way and walk a short distance to intercept bus route 145 on Milton St. This took some planning and trialling before finding it was a good way home. The bus finder app did not include this option and it would frustrate a lot of people trying to work it all out. I suggest bus route 145 could be replaced with a higher performing one that includes the shops and office blocks of Lincoln Rd.
