How do you expect poor people to get around if you take the buses away from them?! Some people can't afford cars and taxis for transportation.

i don't agree with that and also it's part of all three options so it's not not an option which is ridiculous. Why don't you stop working on the farcical joke of a cycleway and spend money on fixing the east side roads that are still an absolute mess instead of creating bottleneck roads in the city centre with bicycle lanes that come at cost to people trying to drive, rubbish trucks and buses trying to use the streets.

Who comes up with these plans? It's actually embarrassing the state of the streets.
