Overiewing the 4 million dollar shortfall against the new cycle way developments excessive and disastrous 200 million dollar plus spend. There needs to be a reflection of priorities.

Common sense is saying there needs to be a diversion of funds from cycles to buses to not only balance the books but to channel money to the greater use & need.

Long term question is - in winter, will a low cost/well designed bus service be better utilized by consumers than the cyclists commuting to the city.
