To whom it may concern

I wish to lodge my objection to the change [PC7] policy 4.102

This is a blatant attack on freshwater fishermen and their recreational activities by limiting the movement of salmonoids through the waterways, such restrictions would have a dramatic effect on spawning and the viability to have a sustainable fishing waters. Fishing is an entrenched activity within New Zealand society and the benefits it brings are not only financial via employment and tourism, it also adds to the welfare of a balanced society and given current government policy around well-being, such a move would directly contravene that intent.
