Reasons comment:

I oppose the consent for the pipeline discharge due to the potential for further environmental degradation and I'm concerned what the effects would be on recreational fishing at the Waihou Box further north. Although the Ocean may be seen as large, it is not infinite and the saying "Tragedy of the Commons" comes to mind, in that it sets up a precedent for more environmental destruction when we are at a time when these actions need to change. There are potentially more environmentally friendly ways for Oceania to deal with this issue as opposed to saving a few bucks at the expense of the environment. Thank you
