Reasons comment:

This must be a piss take? We are destroying our waterways leading to the ocean and now we're talking about just skipping straight to pumping the crap straight into the ocean. I can't even take my kids swimming in the rivers I used to swim in because of the toxicity levels and the only real change upstream is the intensification for dairy. FFS ECan, how about taking a leadership position on some of these matters and knocking them on the head before hand.
