Reasons comment:

The burning of coal is a proven contributor to global warming, and needs to be phased out much more quickly than this plan allows. If Environment Canterbury and other district councils in NZ are in a state of 'Environmental Emergency' then they should clearly not allow for the extension of this mining operation. It is a ridiculous concession to corporate interests, and is betraying the people of NZ in this state of emergency. It is well within the means of Fonterra to find alternative sources of energy for their drying plants. Environment Canterbury should instead work with them to manage this transition.
