Reasons comment:

As kaitiaki of the whenua, it is totally irresponsible for us to continue activities such as coal mining. We already know that our world's environment is deeply damaged and we need to make radical changes immediately to even have a chance of surviving as a planet let alone as a species. Carrying on business as usual and continuing to expand coal mining activities is madness in the extreme. I call on you as people in the positions of power, to be responsible for your decision. Make sure you are able to one day explain to your grandchildren the reasons for your decision. Arohanui and kia kaha
