Reasons comment:

I believe that the enviromental impacts of mining for coal and then burning that same coal is extremely negative. I believe that the planet is in a time of crisis. This is a time for humans to do the morally right thing. The burning of fossil fuels is being stopped around the world and alternative fuels are being sourced. We need to repair the damage we have caused this planet not continue to cause more. The mining for coal is not a sustainable way forward. Business as usual will not get us out of this mess.

Consent comment:

No further approval for environmentally damaging applications. No further approval for applications for activities that will damage nature and ultimately human life. I believe that the consent authority is morally bound to NOT approve the application on the grounds that it is not an environmentally sound activity and that the burning of fossil fuels should be ceased entirely.
