Reasons comment:

I am surprised that in 2020 and give climate health emergency in NZ and the world, that the option of extending coal mining is even considered. We all are aware of the effects of both the mining and the use of coal. The effects of the mining on OUR environment are simple not acceptable. Effects of the noise and dust, the waterways and effects to ecosystems of flora and fauna. Canterbury already suffers shockingly on pollution to our waterways with most of our rivers and lakes now so poisoned they are not safe for human contact. This mining largely supports dairy which is one of the largest contributors to this pollution. The effects to the land and the animals, down to the insects, and plants is simply not acceptable. We should be looking at regenerating our land not destroying. There are alternatives and cleaner energies that should be used and supported rather than coal. The energy of the 19th and early 20th century. I oppose extension of all mining.
