Reasons comment:

I am opposed to any increase in coal mining for environmental reasons. As a country we are aiming to reduce carbon emissions. More coal produced does not achieve this. Bathurst has enough mines and should be looking to support the current international and government initiatives in reducing coal fired factories. The money spent on expansion could be used for R n D, finding other environment- friendly ways to generate energy or finding ways to have 0 carbon emissions. Eventually coal will go the way of blacksmiths. A reduced demand. Start investing in the future Bathurst as soon you will be an industry of the past.
