Reasons comment:

We should not be expanding a coal mine, when we are trying to slow and reverse climate change due to carbon emissions. We must make every effort to reduce reduce and fossil fuel extraction and therefore also our fossil fuel emissions. Wetlands and the biodiversity that they harbour are a toanga and should not be encroached upon to produce fossil fuels, nor should they be starved of water and topped up with waste water in return. We must reduce our production and reliance on fossil fuels to do our part for ourselves, our neighbours and the rest of the world. We must protect our shrinking wetlands and water resources, once ruined they are irretrievably and permanently gone.

Consent comment:

Do not allow any further expansion of coal mining, no extra water collections and certainly no extra waste water discharge.
