Reasons comment:

Quarries produce silica dust which carries a known risk of respiratory disease, including lung cancer. The risk of living near quarries is not well understood and limiting exposure to dust is recommended. As a mother to three children, two who are chronic asthmatics, I do not want to expose their lungs to any further risk. I am also opposed to the quarry for environmental reasons. Environmental impacts related to quarrying activities on and near the river, such as vibrations, land degradation, land subsidence and landslides, water pollution, occupational noise pollution, and air pollution, will lead to health-related problems and loss of biodiversity - we need to be thinking of sustainability of our environment and community and not just profit revenues.
