I think that you I the option one of good but you need to focus further on removing traffic from roads in the city by making more cycle ways and restricting vehicle access to the central City. You also need to make sure that people actually use the public transport system, by reducing fares for youth and elderly as well as ensuring they are safer and more reliable. This will keep more people off the roads ultimately saving the money you lost in fares through reduced spending on roads repair. Other things you should focus on are supplying alternative job options to miners and those on the coal industry as well as rewinding bottled water companies / irrigating farms to pay more for their water. You should support local produce farmers, discouraging dairy as it is not a good option for the plains. You should also use Train or other alternatives to the current trucking system we use, which destroys the roads and emits greenhouse gases.
