Mother nature is much bigger than we are, the influence of mankind on so-called "climate change" is tiny and INSIGNIFICANT. Whatever happened to "global warming"? Repeat that last question! MORE GOVERNMENT IS NOT THE ANSWER TO NATURAL CLIMATE VARIATION. Besides, China and India and the rest of the world are rapidly increasing their CO2 emissions, they put their people first, unlike our political establishment. It will be better keeping our money out of government hands and in the hands of those who create the nations wealth - THE PEOPLE.

Any other comments on Environment Canterbury's draft Annual Plan or other matters?
